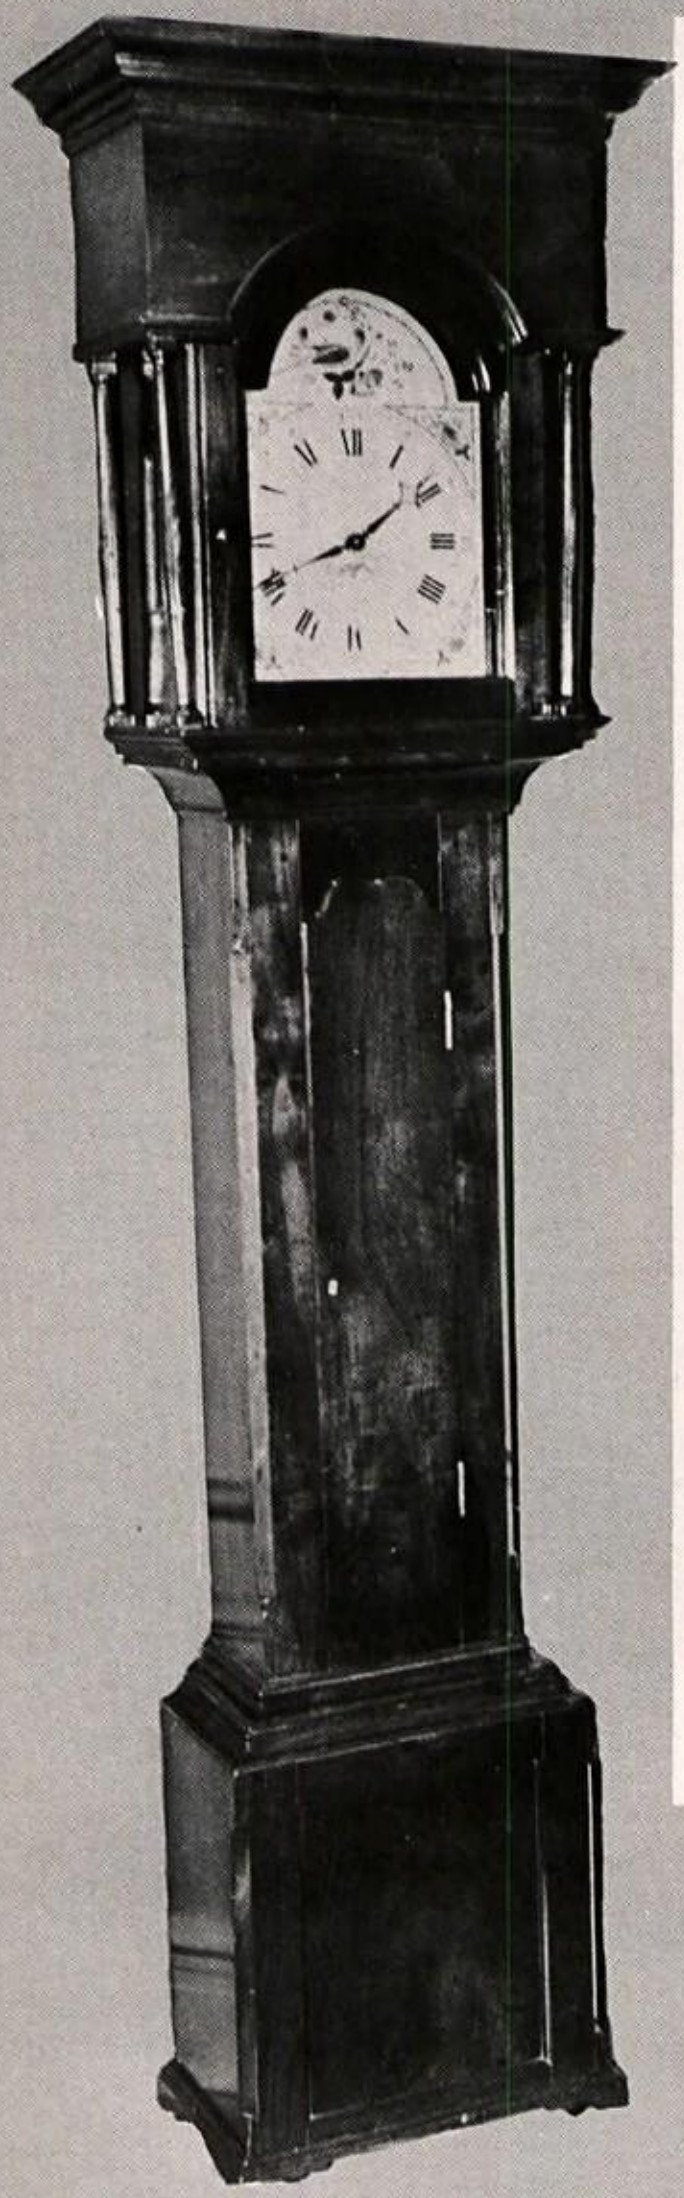
THE WESTERNER 1956

THE WESTERN HIGH SCHOOL Washington, D. C.



FOREWORD

"Onward, move onward, O time in thy flight." The last year has seen Western grow bigger and better; it has seen students graduate and new pupils come in to fill their places. Time moves on and is lost, but the traditions and spirit of Western stand firm.

We, the Westerner staff of 1956, hope that we have captured the spirit of Western in its entirety within the pages of this book, and we hope that through the smiling faces of the students and the words printed herein, this spirit will be transmitted to you, our readers.

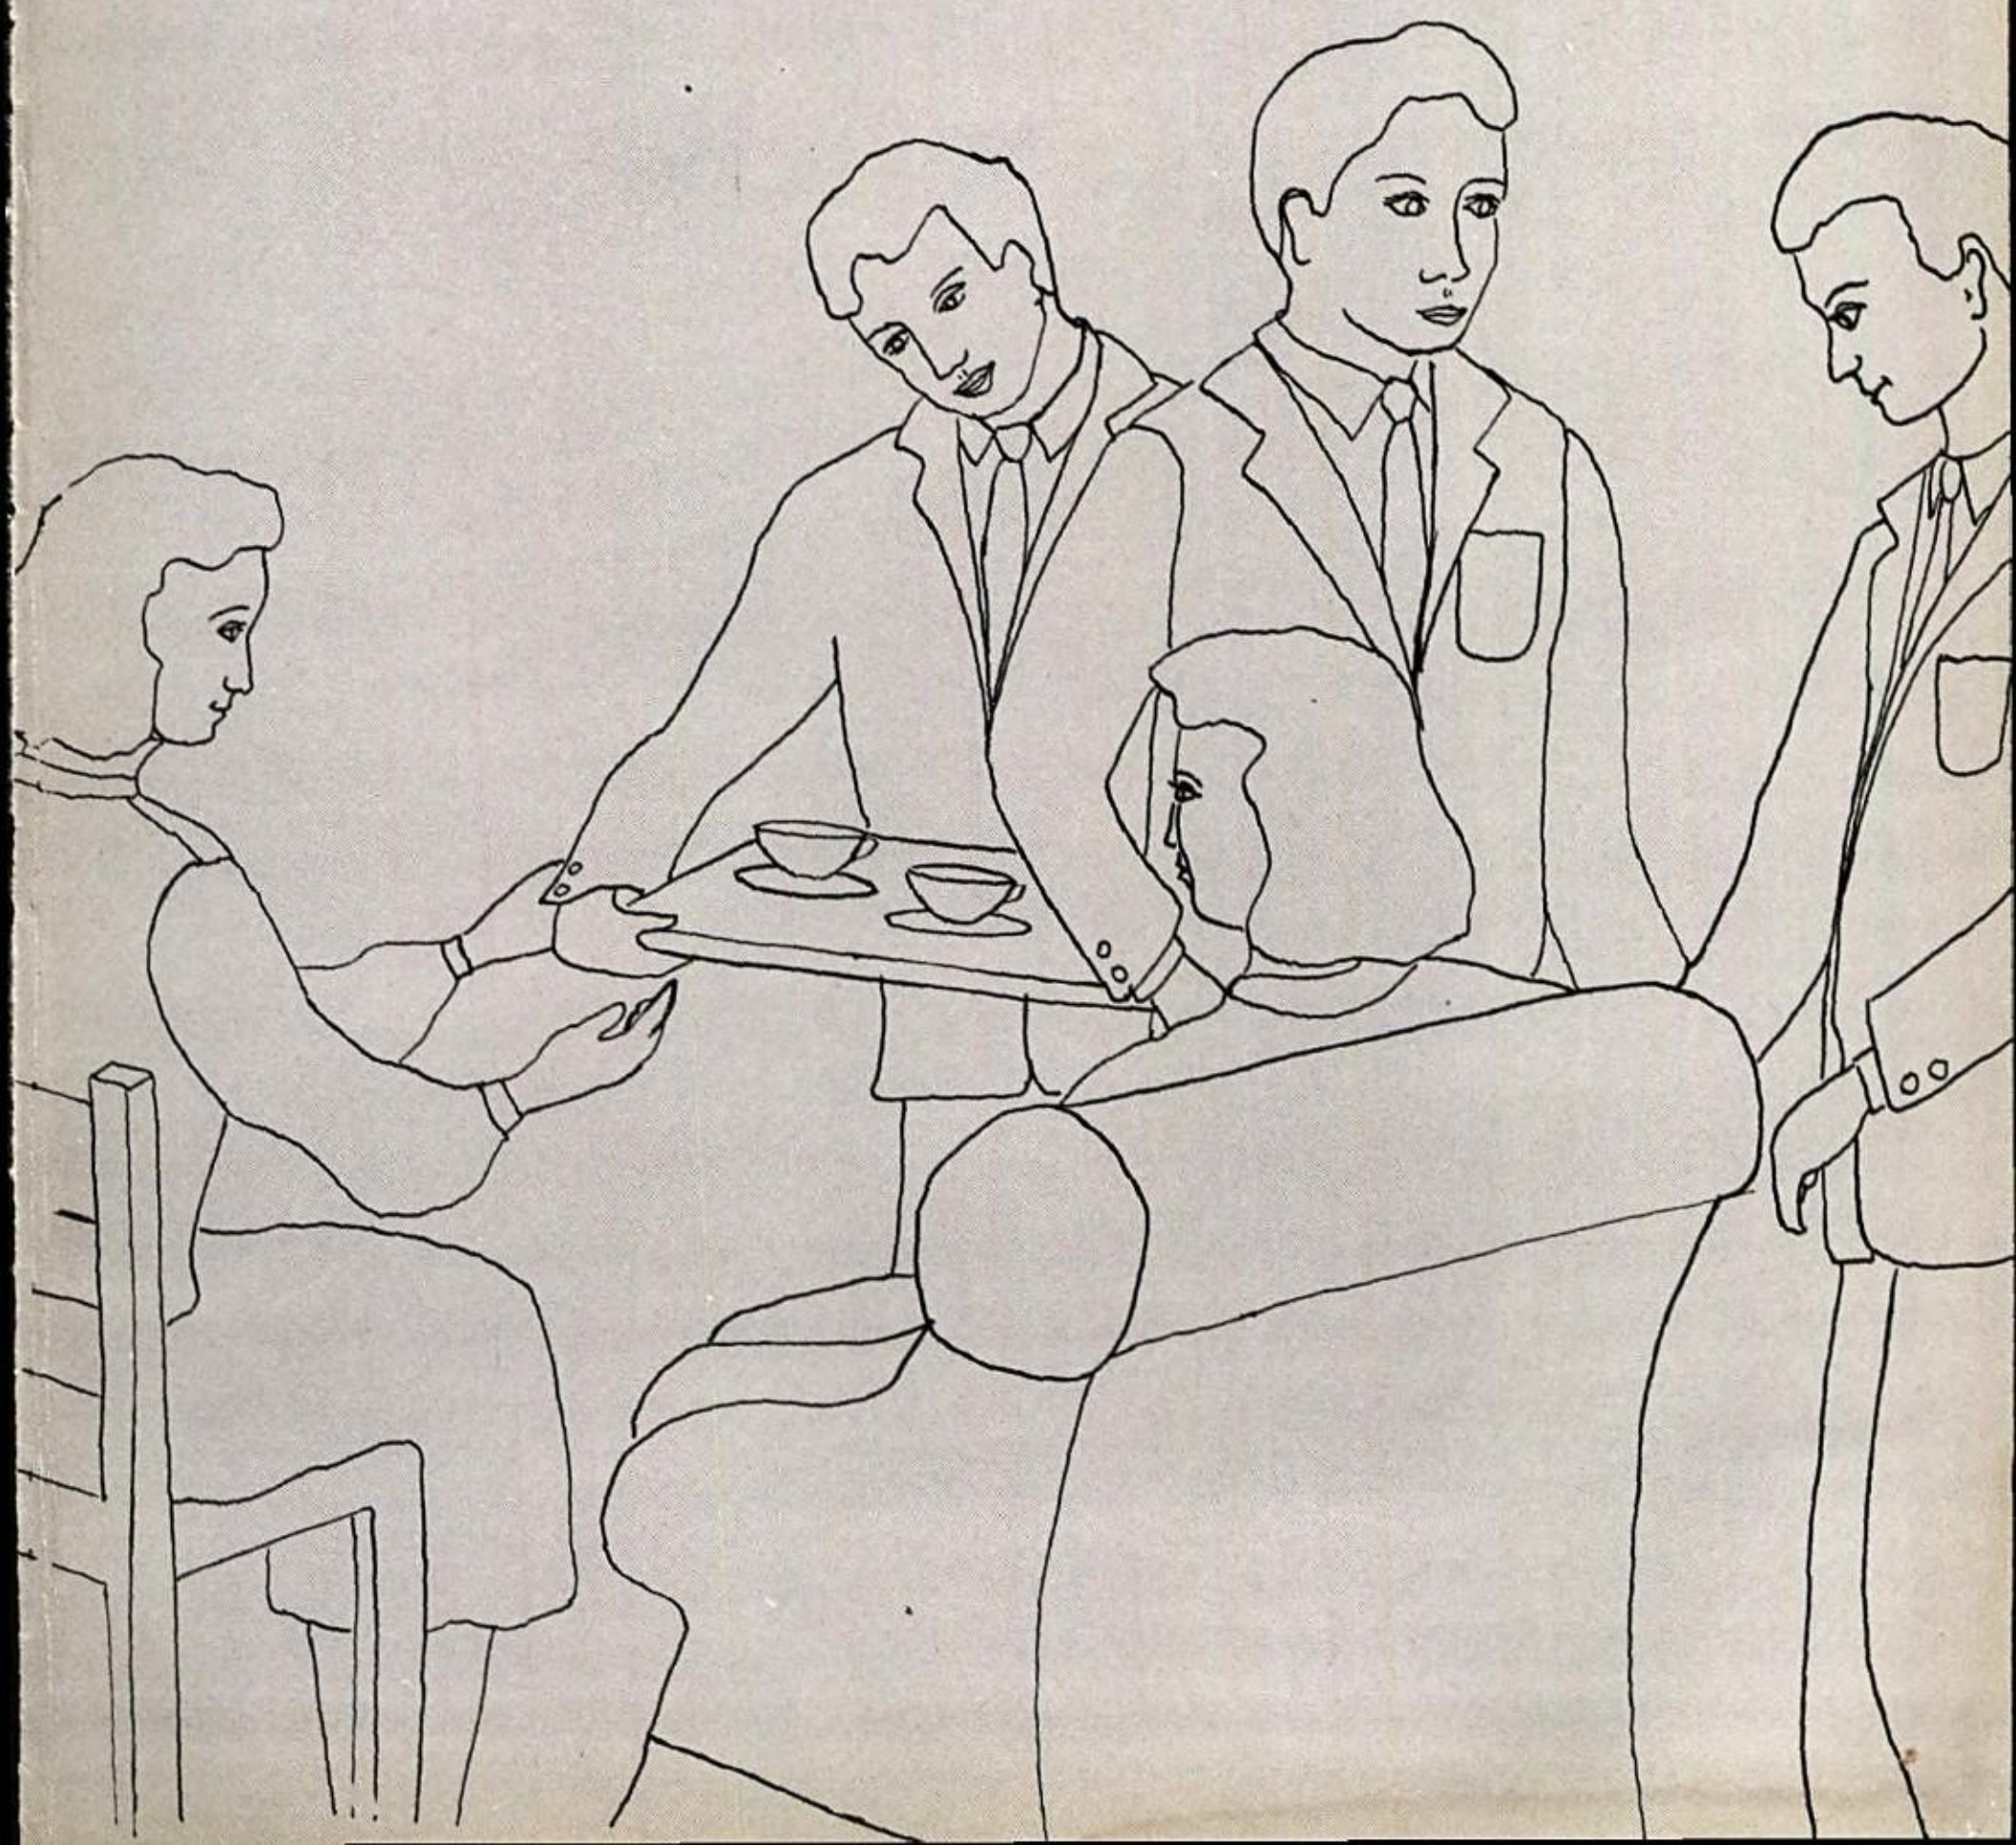
DEDICATION

Mr. Robert S. Anderson, after twenty years of faithful service as assistant principal at Western, retired on August 31, 1955. He, with his quiet manner, was devoted to his work with young people and was an efficient administrator. His range of activities at Western was broad; the wealth of the friendships he made here was great.

We on the staff know and admire Mr. Anderson and we dedicate this book, our 1956 Westerner, to him and to his achievements in the field of education.

FACULTY

"Be ruled by time,
the wisest counselor of all"



Miss Irene Rice
Principal

ADMINISTRATORS ENCOURAGE ACHIEVEMENT

The staff of the 1956 Westerner has prepared the record of this school year around the unifying idea of Time, which leads us to ask ourselves what we mean by Time.

Man has divided Time into equal units and to each individual is given the same number of these units. For each, a day has twenty-four hours of equal length. Some of us will waste what we have because we will forget that an hour lost today cannot be recovered tomorrow. And some of us will use each hour wisely.

Time naturally falls into larger divisions – the Past, the Present, and the Future. About the Past we can do nothing. If we miss an hour, as it is passing, it is lost forever. The Future lies beyond us, and its use will concern us tomorrow. But the Present is our responsibility, our opportunity. It is ours to use or misuse; it is ours to use completely or to waste. Wise use of Today will eliminate regrets for Yesterday and anxiety for Tomorrow.

Assistant Principal

Miss Marion Magruder

"Do you have to take chemistry to go to Cornell? Does G.W. offer scholarships in foreign service? Are there any jobs at Ann's Kitchen during the Christmas holidays?" These are some of the many questions which confront our counselors every day.

Miss Marion Magruder and Mr. Ralph Watt are the two counselors at Western. They assist the students in making out their schedules, in finding employment, and in preparing for college placement. They also try to discover each person's interests and abilities and to guide him according to his talents.

COUNSELING BANISHES BEWILDERMENT

Miss Magruder helps seniors with college plans.

Mr. Watt counsels Kate Lee on her schedule for the next semester.

Pupils seek the silence of the library for study.

Miss Margaret Jordan

Mrs. Olive Daniel

Gaining experience for future employment are Judy Curtis, Louise Boyd, Dotty Bones, Bev Farhood, Marlene Jones, and Betty Grinsted.

The Western library is familiar to every Westernite. It is here that students find the reams of information necessary for term papers, extra reports, and reading enjoyment. Miss Margaret Jordan is ready and willing to answer any of their questions concerning the use of the library and the location of books. A staff of student librarians also are on hand to check out books and to help in any way.

Another place where students are utilized in the running of the school is in the front office. The student workers on the front office staff are trained to become competent, efficient secretaries and switchboard operators. These students acquire practical secretarial knowledge by assisting Miss Rice, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Daniel, and Mr. Bosley.

UNDERSTANDING INDUCES FRIENDSHIP

Mrs. Agnes Beckwith

Miss Myrtle Bray
Miss Maria Neuffer

Miss Margaret Dorsey
Miss Elizabeth L. Shields

What student of Western will forget his first exposure to Caesar, d'Artagnan, Pablito or Macbeth? These famous characters are met and studied in Western's language department.

We find color and excitement in stories in our French, Spanish, Latin, and English courses, and we become involved in unraveling the complexities of grammar.

Understanding sentence structure in English, remembering where to place accent marks in Spanish, learning the many cases and tenses in Latin, and conquering the conjugations in French, are all part of the process of mastering grammar.

What exactly is a language? It is the way in which a man expresses his thoughts and emotions. Words are necessary to our life, for without them we could not hope to understand the ideas others try to convey. In the study of language we are in contact with the wisdom of many ages and races of men.

Douglas Barclay, Margery MacLeod, Kirke Bent, and Becky Root pore over the results of their term papers.

Miss Carmen Andujar

Mrs. Clara Duncan
Mrs. Marie Primas

"Repondez en Francais s'il vous plait!" is a well known expression in French class.

Miss Bray discusses problems in journalism with her class.

"Escriba en Espanol en la pizarra, por favor," Miss Andujar instructs her students.

"What do you think makes a good citizen?" is asked of the government class.

"We went down to the courts today, and it was really interesting." The trip to the District Court, coupled with an intriguing assembly on jury trials, highlighted the courses in government and law. For the first time in their lives many of Western's young people saw the dry facts, which they had studied, transformed into living drama.

While this was going on in the senior classes, many more students were occupied in other branches of the school's social studies department. In the sociology classes the world's major religions were reviewed. The pupils also examined the desires and motivations of themselves and of others.

Many underclassmen were seeing the events of our era through new eyes as they saw these happenings anticipated or paralleled in the early days of our country. These students in the United States history classes were building up the fund of information about America which is vital in the political conflicts of today.

Many other students avail themselves of the driver training course to learn sportsmanlike driving.

Mr. Patterino teaches civic duty through driver training.

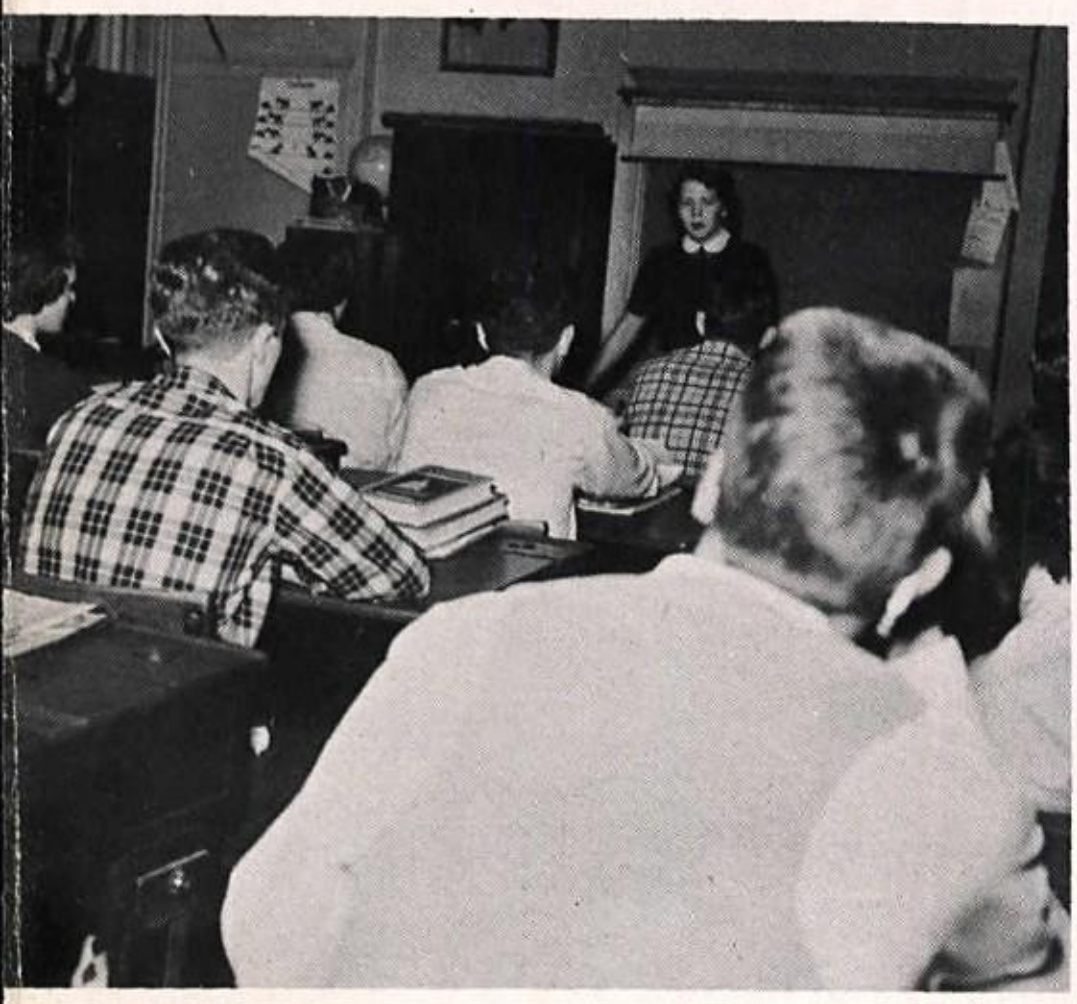
SOCIAL STUDIES
PROMOTE PATRIOTISM

Mrs. Mary Kochka
Miss Margaret Metzeroth

"I know the answer, Miss Metzeroth!" cries Bobby Lomax, springing from his seat.

Sue O'Brien, Western's representative for "I Speak for Democracy," tests her oratorical ability before a law class.



Jean Meyers and Maynard Phillips receive social studies books from Bob Collins in the bookroom.

SCIENCES GO HAND IN HAND TO DISCOVERY

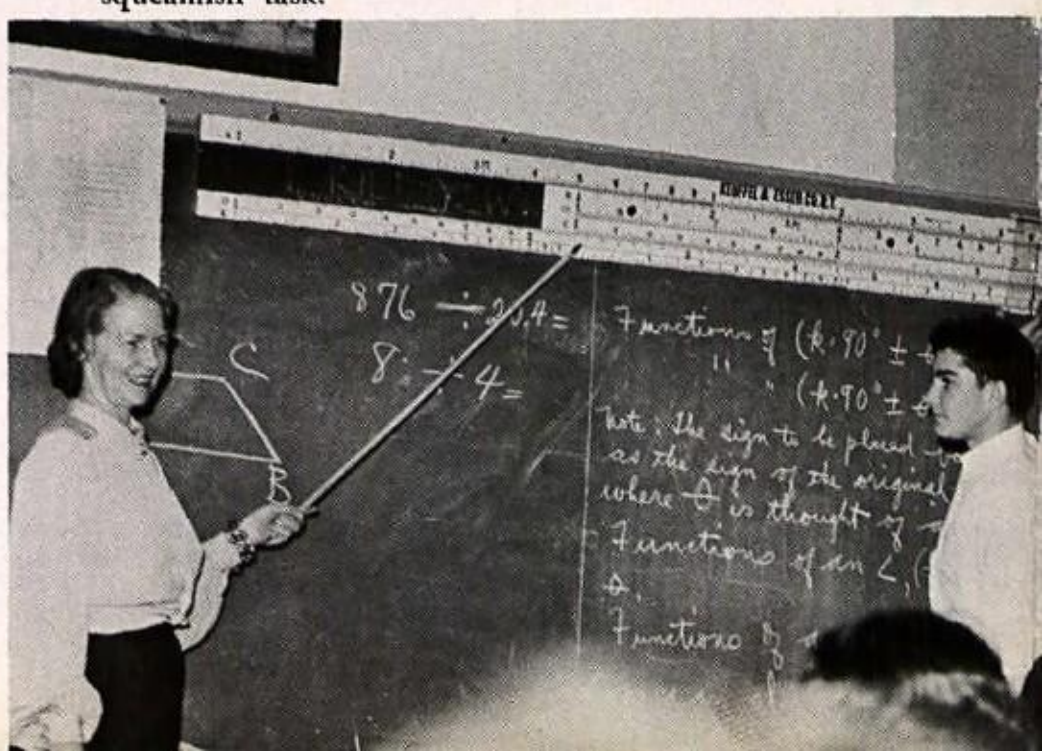
Mrs. Madeline Curtis

Mr. Ben Seekford

Miss Clare Driscoll

Stewart Denenberg, demonstrating the principle of the pulley in physics class, wonders whether he will return to the ground in one piece. Bill Fahrney looks on.

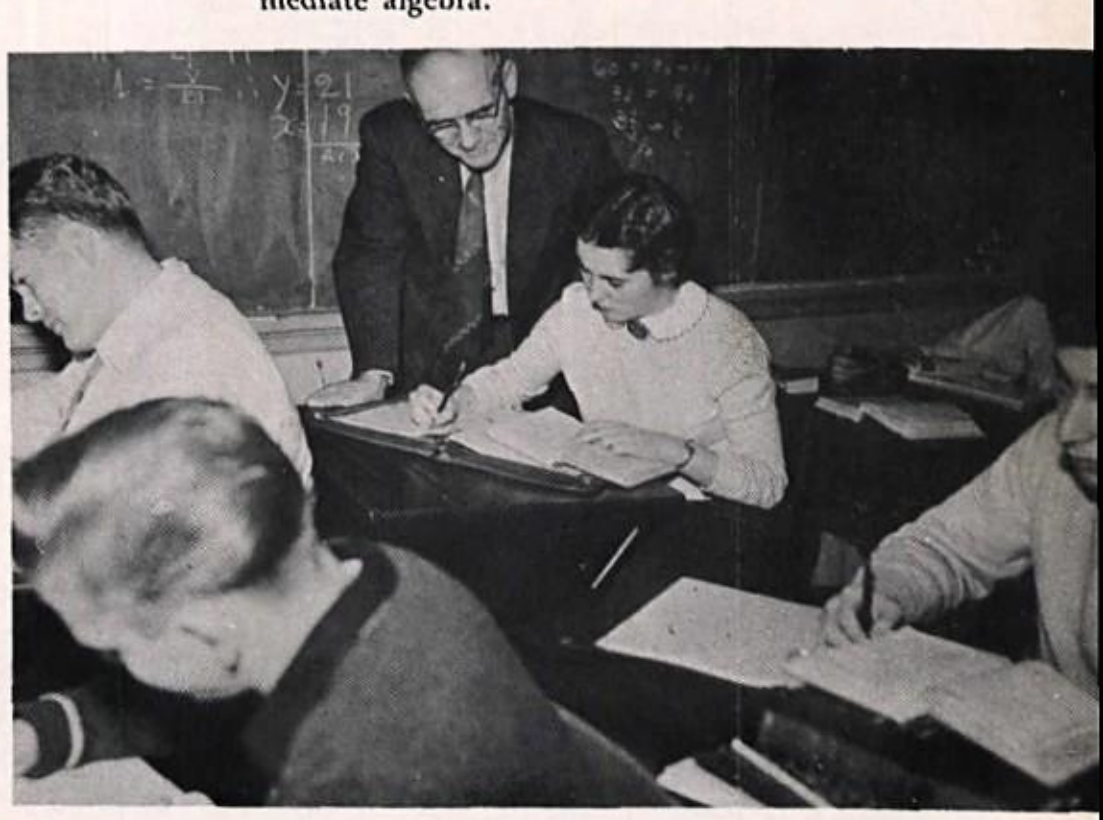
Mr. Seekford proves to Jane Dayhuff, Jody Combs, and Robert Brown that dissecting a crayfish is not such a squeamish task.



The most difficult mathematical problems seem easier after receiving Miss Long's instruction on the use of the slide rule.

Chester Gray, Peter Fuchs, and Cathy Jensen wonder if Adri Gianturco's experiment will work.

Mr. Coover assists Mary Beth Young in solving an intricate problem in intermediate algebra.

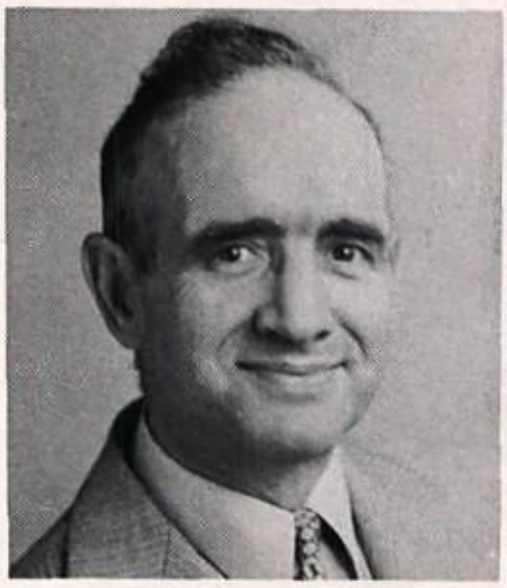


The high school science and math department is an important link in the chain of learning processes that keep America a strong, industrial nation.

In science, Western offers biology, chemistry, and physics. In these courses the students get a good taste of this very exacting part of their training through experimentation, dissection, and demonstration.

The mathematics department offers students such courses as algebra, trigonometry, and geometry. The teachers, besides helping the students to build a sound foundation in math, help them to make a practical use of their knowledge.

From the lab where chemicals bubble over Bunsen burners and pungent fumes curl from beakers, to the trig class where intricate problems are solved by theorems and answers are determined by a slide rule, young minds are absorbing and comprehending the wonders of the sciences.



Mr. Russell B. Coover

Miss Grace H. Long

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS ACQUIRE SKILLS

Miss Irene Knox

The home economics department, better known as home ec, trains students, both boys and girls, in the skills of homemaking. Its courses range from the science of child care to the art of cooking and from home nursing to clothing.

How many times have you passed the home ec room on the second floor and smelled the pleasant aromas coming from the steaming stoves where future homemakers were striving to excel in the culinary arts? Learning how to plan a well balanced meal as well as learning how to cook it properly constitutes a major part of the curriculum of the course.

In a nearby room the sound of sewing machines can be heard and garments can be seen all over the room in various stages of completion.

Upstairs, in a home nursing class, a "patient" is having her bedding changed by practicing "nurses."

In a child care class, pupils are learning how to cope with problems that may confront them when they become parents.

All these scenes are the home ec department in action and all are part of a typical day.

Students wait for a bite of the delicious coffee cake being cut by Miss Knox.

Betty Roberts, Bob Clem, Ann Rideout, and Patricia Pope find dicing vegetables an important part of soup-making.

A good fit and an even hem add up to a nicer looking garment.

"Be sure to iron out all the wrinkles," Miss Knox advises Marlene Jones.

Marking, pinning, and stitching are three important steps in making clothes.

Muffin making means good eating afterwards, think Kathy Burgess, Jill Wiley, Lee Vincent, Peggy Harry, and Pat Nicholson.

Miss Elizabeth Law

FINE ARTS MOLD CULTURE

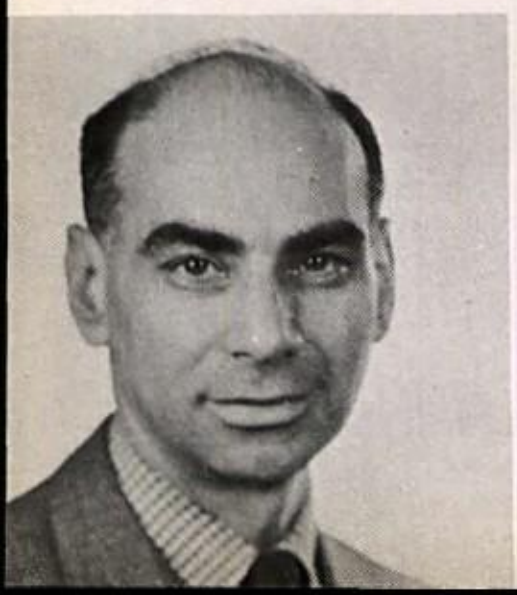
The music we hear drifting through the halls of Western every day comes from Western's music department. Under the three-fold plan of instruction, embracing instrumental, vocal, and auditory training, the students, under the direction of Mr. Harmon Nicodemus, learn to appreciate classical music.

This year the new head of the art department is Mr. Leon Berkowitz. Throughout the year the activities of the department are many. The art students make publicity posters for major school functions, furnish sets for the Christmas program and the Drama Club, and aid the yearbook staff.

Nadya Kayaloff explains her charcoal sketching technique to an interested listener, Carol Brown.

Art students work on the Christmas mural, which later was hung in the front hall.

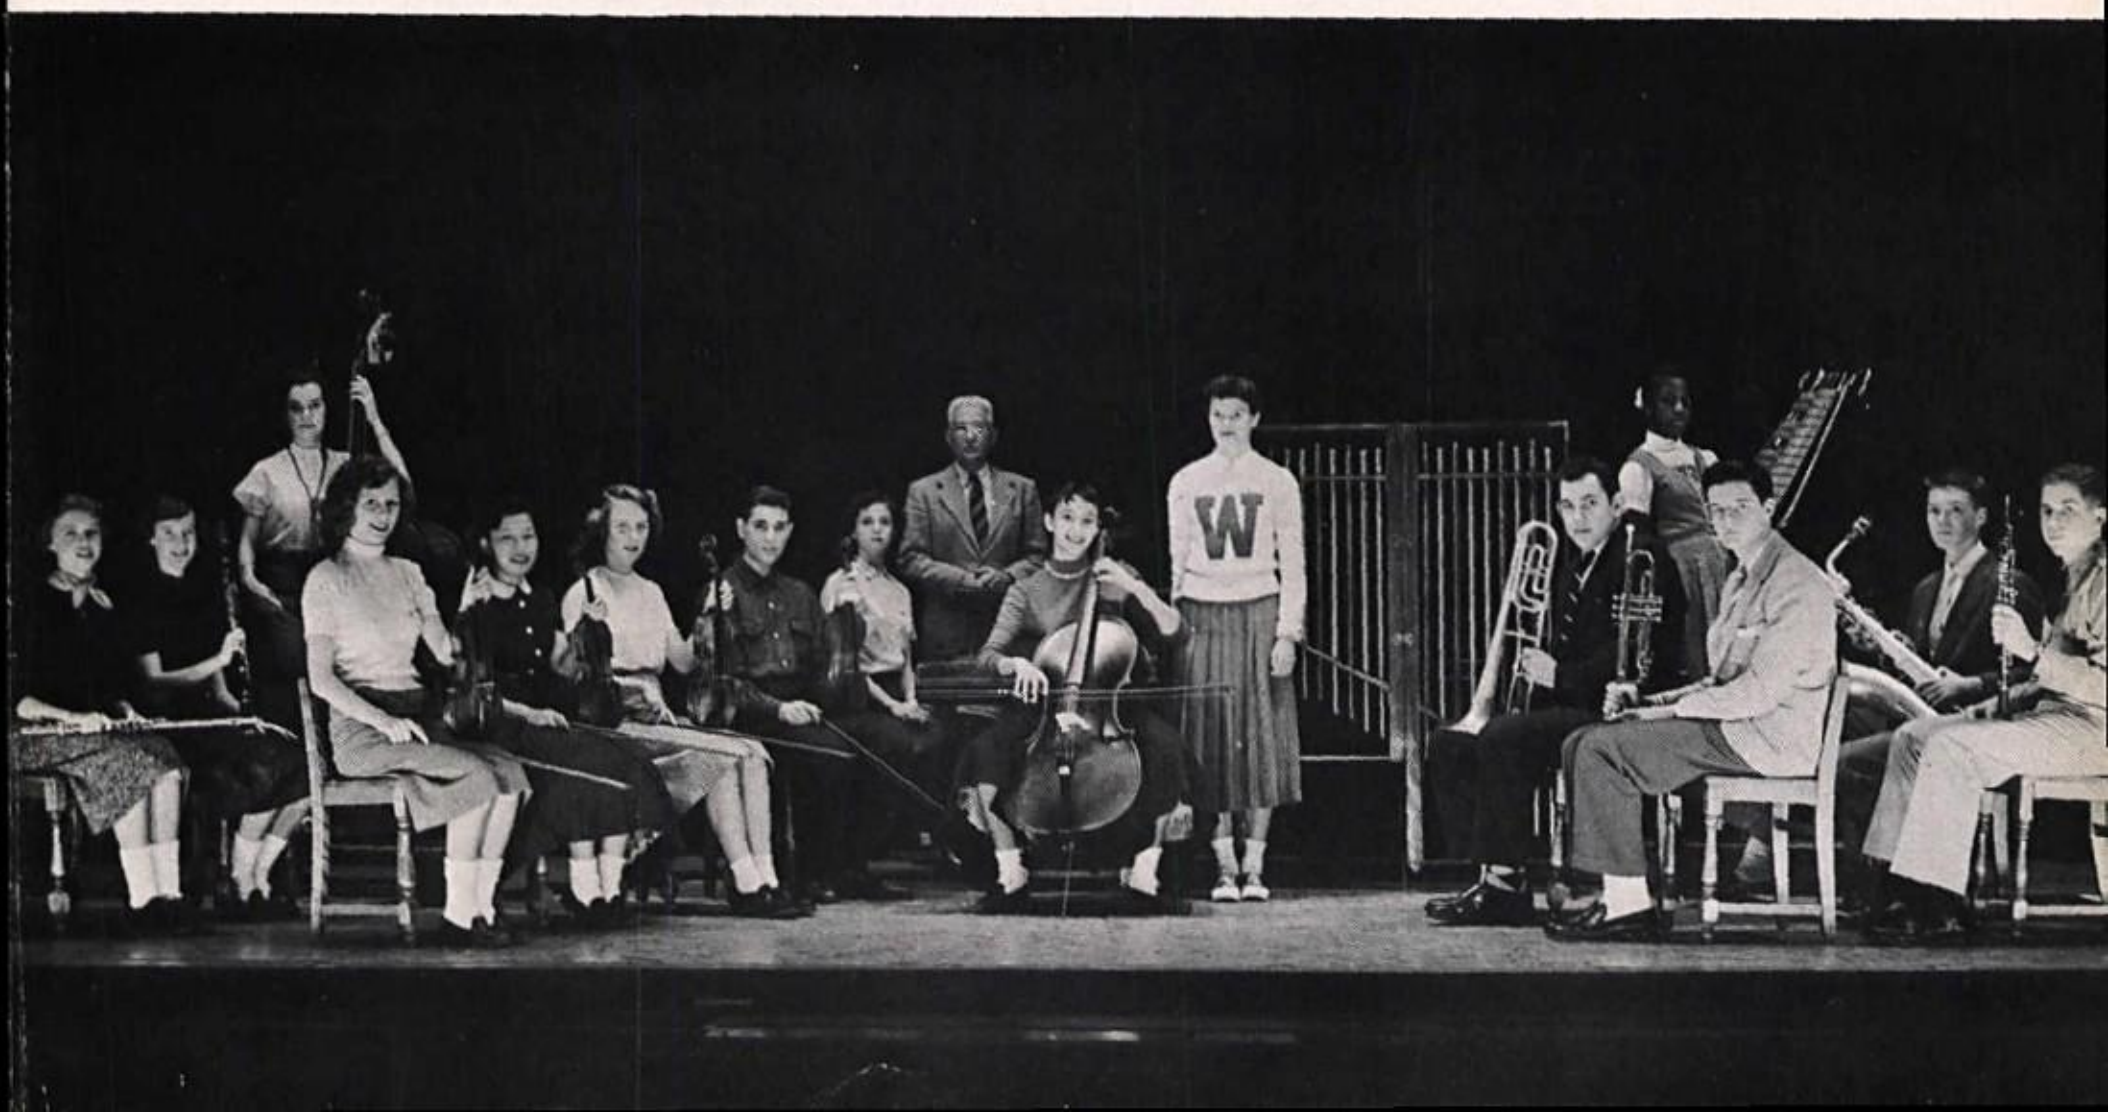
Mr. Leon Berkowitz

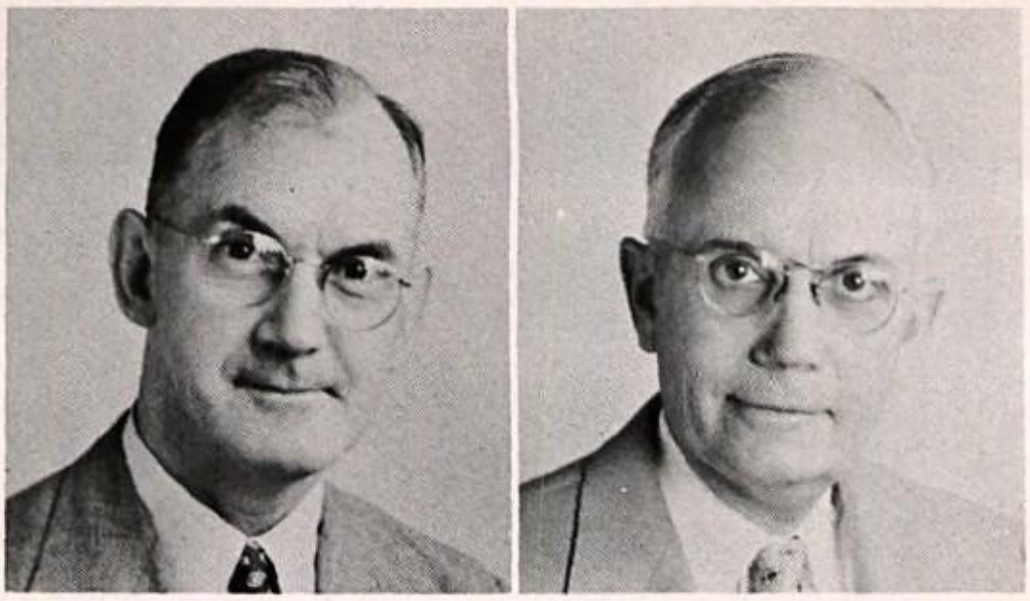


Mr. Harmon Nicodemus

A music class enjoys informal singing accompanied by Angela Tehaan.

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Harmon Nicodemus: Gretha Abrahamsen, Carol Vacher, Elizabeth Moore, Judy Lear, Nancy Tseng, Evelyn Huston, Stephen Shapiro, Suzette Duvall, Mr. Nicodemus, Tess Isenberg, Margery MacLeod, Dowe Roberts, Geveria Shamburger, George Richey, Gary Kohte, Perry Baldwin.





Mr. Harold Crankshaw

Mr. Frederic Middleton

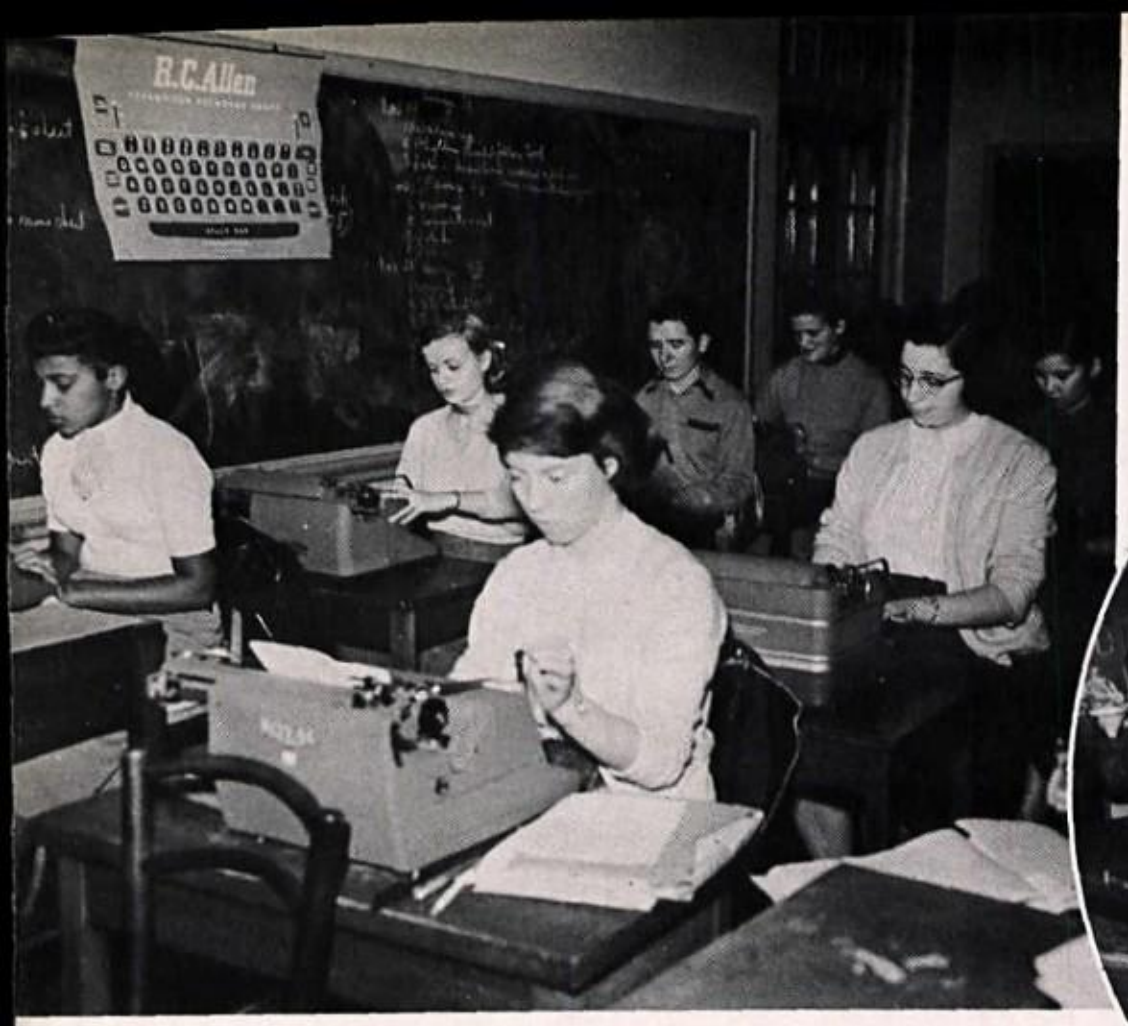
Carl Bokman and Tom Gaffney puzzle over an intricate drawing, while Hayne Dominick works with a Leroy lettering set.

The financial end of Western's clubs and organizations rests in the hands of the efficient bank staff. Ray Lombardi, Margaret Martz, Holly McCoy, Betty Jo Bromley, Barbara Lee, Vernon Best, Sharon Purkhiser, Richard Shaner, Barbara Boswell, Jean Russell, and Nancy Alcorn compose Mrs. Edith Carpenter's staff.



"Why doesn't this typewriter spell right?" This is the question asked by Dotty Blakely, Estelle Collins, Esther Thompson, Gilda Simon, and David Miller.

Tom Crist and Robert Brocksmith operate printing presses in the school's print shop.

Banking, printing, mechanical drawing, typing, and shorthand are all part of Western's business department.

Students are able to get practical experience in banking through work in the school bank. The bank offers a savings account service and sells game and bus tickets. Here knowledge gained from bookkeeping class is applied.

The printing course consists of hand composition and elementary press work. Students in the advanced classes print material for the school such as the Pledge to the Flag and the schedule of classes.

In mechanical drawing, students learn the basic principles that will enable them to become draftsmen or engineers. First, they do simple drawings and then ink them. As they progress in the course, they do much more complicated drawings that require more accuracy and skill.

The typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand courses are of special value to future secretaries. The typing and shorthand students strive for accuracy in taking down, during dictation, a large number of words per minute. The bookkeeping students learn to keep accurate record books.

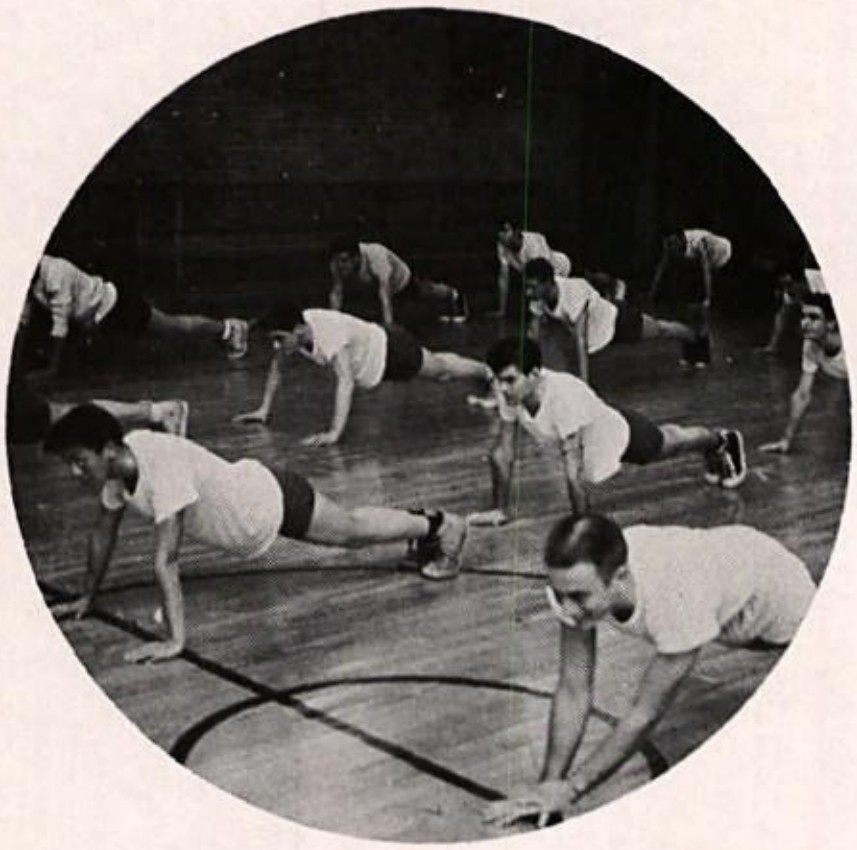
HEALTH FOSTERS ALERTNESS



"Only two more to go," pant the boys as they complete their push-up exercises.

Physical education is not merely going to the gym, doing some pushups, and playing a game of basketball. It is learning how to make friends, how to handle yourself with people your own age, and most essential, how to work on a team. When a boy leaves the gym after a good half hour of rangers, he will feel tired, certainly, but he will also have a certain feeling of having done something which was good for him, not only physically but also mentally.

Hand in hand with the physical part of gym is the teaching of health theory. When a boy goes away from Western he has been taught the value of good health.

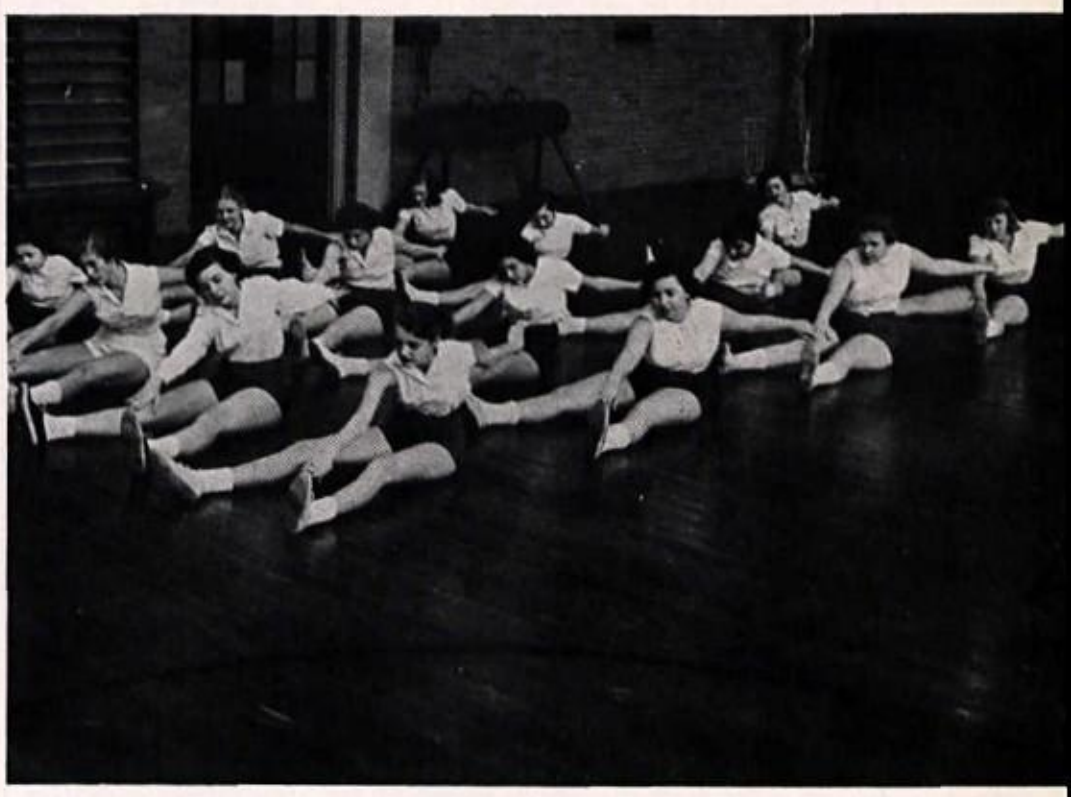
David Tseng says, "Take the picture before I drop," as David Hastings, Mike Robertson, and Bill Fahrney hang on for dear life.

Mrs. Hall, the nurse at Western, looks on while Charleen Hill takes Pat Smith's temperature. Jane Beamer, at the typewriter, keeps the infirmary records straight.

"Break it again, girls; you need the practice." Judy Curtis, Marlene Jones, Lyn Caldwell, Louise Boyd, Joanna Noland, Adri Gianturco, Nadya Kayaloff, Pat Harrison, and Charleen Hill "patch up" Sue George.

"Squat, thrust, one, two! Duck hop, three, four!" These strange commands echo in the girls' gym when Western's young ladies are taking their exercises. The ever-present exercises are healthful and important. They are designed to strengthen weak muscles and to keep the girls physically fit.

The activities of the girls' physical education department are many and varied. In the fall the sophomores and juniors play hockey, while the seniors develop archery skills. When the weather becomes too cold to go to the field, all three grades play basketball in the gym. In the spring, baseball and track-meet preparations are the predominant activities.



Exercises are an important part of the girls' physical education curriculum.

CLUBS

"A time to every purpose under the sun"

Marilyn Hogenson, the first semester's Student Council president, carries out Council business.

The Student Council is the most important link between the students and the faculty at Western. The student body elects the president and vice-president, whereas the council itself chooses the secretary and treasurer.

This year the organization has done much to improve school spirit. An orientation program was instituted, funds were raised for CARE, and a marching band was organized for the games. Much of the first semester was spent in revising the constitution, in presenting a clubs assembly, and in organizing a mailing system for Christmas cards.

The executive committee is the clearing house for the Student Council. Mary Moy, Sharon Stevenson, Sue Flemming, Pete Fuchs, Arleen Sawtell, and June Langford puzzle over a problem to be brought before the Council.

"Let's bleed this and then superimpose it," suggests Clifford Justice, Westerner photographer, as he sorts out the many pictures to be used in the yearbook.

WESTERNER STAFF RECORDS

A YEAR OF ACTIVITY

For some, the yearbook may serve only as a souvenir of a good time. For others, the annual book preserves memories of friends and teachers they know so well. Actually, the yearbook is this and much more. It contains a complete record of every activity sponsored by the school, it brings the students closer together in common loyalty, and years from now it will bring smiles to the faces of Western graduates.

The nineteen fifty-six Westerner staff took on the task of producing a book which Westernites would not soon forget. The staff sincerely hopes that everyone will find here a pleasing record of the school year 1955-56.

Cub reporters, Susan Dembitz and George Ditmore, interview a school visitor.

"All right, gang, let's get to work," is the cry uttered by the page editors of the Breeze.

The Breeze staff has worked hard to give the school a varied and interesting newspaper. Combining progressive writing style with new ideas, the staff has endeavored to bring before the student body everything of general interest to the school, to voice the students' views, and to function for the general good of Western.

The Breeze accomplishes its aim of interpreting the high school students themselves. The newspaper strives for a wider appeal in its interviews with outstanding school personalities, in humorous sketches, and in feature articles.

The staff sincerely hopes that the Breeze, as a high school paper, has served its purpose and has been of real service to Western High School during this year.

HONOR SOCIETIES PROMOTE CITIZENSHIP

The Cog, now in its twenty-sixth year at Western, is the mechanical drawing honor society. The organization was founded by Mrs. Page Kirk and is, at present, under the able leadership of Mr. Frederic Middleton. To promote school spirit the members sell Western decals, pennants, hats, and book covers in the cafeteria at lunchtime. They also sell cokes at all home football and baseball games.

In the spring of each year the Cog sponsors the Cog Hop, which is always a great success.

Phi Beta Rho is Western's own honor society. In order to qualify for membership, a student must have attained honor roll standing for five semesters. The society has among its members leaders in every field of school activity.

In the fall the society assisted dental hygienists in a school-wide dental survey. In November of this year the girls of the society rendered service by serving dinner to the college representatives on College Night. The only formal activity of the group is the initiation of new members. This is held once every semester and includes an assembly and a banquet.

Mrs. Margaret Tingen is the sponsor of Phi Beta Rho.

ACTORS FACE THE FOOTLIGHTS

As in years past, the Drama Club has had a busy and rewarding year. Starting off with Sheridan's classic, The Rivals, the club, under the direction of Miss Margaret Dorsey, also presented Dickens' The Christmas Carol and a skit for the Clubs Assembly. The climax of the year was the presentation of the Spring Play, Cornelia Otis Skinner's Our Hearts Were Young and Gay.

The year's activities were planned not only to vary the life of the school but also to give training in voice and poise to all members of the club.

Jim Royce, Sue O'Brien, Bill King, and Angela Tehaan rehearse for Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, the club's spring production.

French Club members, Ann Moorhouse, Edith George, Pierre Goze, and Stephen Shapiro, portray Paris shopping difficulties in the Clubs Assembly skit.

Ann Moorhouse and Myron Berger relax after a Spanish Club performance.

LINGUISTS LINGER LATE

En Avant, a very active club at Western, has had a successful year. The monthly meetings, at which only French was spoken, always proved to be a bright spot in the schedule of all the French students. The annual Christmas program featured songs, poems, and a long-remembered play, "Le Jongleur de Notre Dame." Other meetings included skits, reports on France and French life, and outside speakers.

Under the direction of Madame Marie Primas, the Club has well accomplished its objectives and aims.

". . . at haec studia adulescentiam alunt . . ." intones Larry Tingle, recapturing the spirit of Cicero.

The monthly meetings of the Latin Club have proven that Latin is certainly not a "dead" language. The club, with all of its members interested in promoting appreciation for Roman culture, has had a profitable year. Its members firmly believe that the study of Latin and the Roman civilization is valuable and important because of the knowledge gained and because of the foundation acquired for the study of English and the Romance languages.

Under the direction of Mrs. Clara Duncan, the club members recognize that Latin is a "living" language.

El Circulo Espanol has definitely reached its goal of encouraging an active interest in the Spanish language. The club has more new members as well as an increasing number of different and varied programs. These programs include skits, outside speakers, singing, and dancing.

Under the leadership of Senorita Carmen Andujar, the Spanish Club has accomplished its aim of promoting interest in the cultural background of our neighbors to the south.

"Hop along, dear old Western. . . ."

Boosters is one of Western's most active organizations and does what its name implies by boosting the school spirit and enthusiasm of the student body. It advertises school dances, games, special projects, and all other school functions. Under the supervision of Mr. Herbert Bosley, it sponsors pep assemblies and charters buses for important games away from Western.

Boosters is officially the publicity committee of the Student Council and its chairman is a member of the executive committee of the Council.

Boosters is one of the clubs that keep Western's school spirit on top.

CLUBS RENDER VALUABLE SERVICES

Y-TEENS — Row one: Catherine Maxwell, Joshua Ford, Pat Roczey, Joan Kuniholm, Patricia Oertel, Mary Beth Young, Margaret Longfellow, secretary; Pat Payne, president; Gene Cohen, vice-president; Margery MacLeod, treasurer; Hulit Pressley, I.C.C. representative; Ann Moorhouse, Nancy Head, Shirley Kosberg, Peggy Hall, Josephine Swinton. Row two: Judy Curtis, Louise Boyd, Margie Klein, Joan Walsh, Celine Merrill, Ryhan Bano, Anne Austin, Charleen Hill, Terry Magnuson, Marilyn Hogenson, Susan O'Brien, Rebecca Root. Row three: Ruth Redden, Carol Bokman, Judy Gardner, Judy Lear, Nadya Kayaloff, Paulette Seidel, Ann Shuman, Mary Moy, Eleanor Johnson, Jean Lord, Sue Wanderman, Cynthia Wright, Mary Lynn Foore, Janet Evans, Kay Burke, Liz Frazier, Betsy Norton, Holly Edwards, Jane Dayhuff, Lucille Goulet, Nancy Grayson. Row four: Erica Collins, Havana Durrette, Betty Grinstead, Freda Bean, Jean Myers, Barbara Longfellow, Karen Mercado, Carol Vacher, Julia Marsh, Anna Hallbeck, Delores Mounsey, Joyce Carter, Margaret Humphries, Alison Rettger, Roberta Richardson, Clementine Tausch, Nancy Alcorn, Theresa Prowinski, Ann Ready, Karen Lund, Delphine Belen, Leona Hart. Row five: Gretha Abrahamsen, Lillian Torreyson, Darlene Blackman, Christine Burns, Lizz Byrd, Patricia King, Terry Critz, Harriet Duff, Eleanor Croft, Anna DeKonschin, Millicent Crowell, Louise Casgrain, Kate Lee, Barbara Newby, Sharon Purkhiser, Dorothy Quinn, Beth Thring, Janet Rysavy, Dorothy Bones, Mary Jane Fletcher. Row six: Kay Rinfrette, Pat Kistner, Joyce Young, Peggy Harry, Carol Brown, Carol Moomaw, Caroline Colpitts, Jean Hastings, Pat Pope, Alice Warren, Susan Flemming, Ann Rideout, Phyllis Zazicki, Carol Butler, Sue Carter, Sally Hedekin, Ronia Shurman, Martha Seymour, Peggy Coiner.

Y-Teens Anna DeKonschin, Judy Lear, Ann Ready, Carol Vacher (standing), and Peggy Hall and Ann Shuman (seated) make yarn dolls for Georgetown Neighborhood House.

The Y-Teens, the high school branch of the YWCA, has an active club here at Western. Service projects are its forte. To prove this fact, it gave several parties for the children of Georgetown Neighborhood House, sold doughnuts at home football games, and helped in the fight against TB by selling Christmas seals.

The club meets twice a month and meeting topics range from manners to movies, and from dating relations to beauty hints.

Miss Elizabeth Law and Miss Grace Long have helped jointly to steer the club, the largest at Western, through its year of activities.

YOUTH BECOMES AWARE OF WORLD PROBLEMS

"First speaker for the affirmative . . ." With this statement, another meeting of the Debate Club begins.

The club has debated issues including the Gray Amendment, Universal Military Training, and the voting age.

In the fall three members of the club attended the three-day National Conference on Citizenship and more members were present at a naturalization ceremony on the third day. Later in the year a delegation attended a conference at George Washington University. Various members have been on the TV programs, "Youth Wants to Know" and "The New York Times Youth Forum."

The club is under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Bish.

The Red Cross Council has done much to improve the spirit at Western. Its members include those girls who are interested primarily in the welfare of others.

Among their activities are giving parties, making toys, and donating their services to Georgetown Neighborhood House.

This club is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mary Kochka.

ATHLETES REACH SPORTS HEIGHTS

The boys' and the girls' "W" clubs serve as the judicial branch of the student government. One of their duties is to see that the school rules are upheld. The clubs co-sponsor Western's annual Snow Ball. The faculty advisers, Mr. Clifton Moore and Miss Dena Whitesell, sit in on all the meetings and help the members make decisions.

The members of the boys' "W" club, each one a winner of a major letter, are approved by their teachers and are elected to the club by the present members.

The members of the girls' "W" club become eligible through active participation in sports clubs and an accumulation of two hundred points.

BIBLE STUDY ENRICHES CHARACTER

BIBLE CLUB — Row One: Loretta Crawley, Ann Duvall, Celine Merrill, Mary Jane Fletcher, Stephanie Nagle, Terry Magnuson, Susan O'Brien, Margery MacLeod, Ronia Shurman. Row two: Fanita Bartoo, Jane Bissett, Anna DeKonschin, Erica Collins, secretary; Margaret Longfellow, vice-president; Gretha Abrahamsen, president; Larry Tingle, treasurer; Nancy Head, Carol Kaufman, Leona Hart, Clementine Tausch. Row three: Jody Combs, Jean Myers, Ryhan Bano, Guyla Bond, Rebecca Root, Susan Wanderman, Jean Lord, Joan Walsh, Jane Dayhuff, Pat Payne, Betsy Norton, Theresa Prowinski, Ann Ready, Karen Mercado. Row four: Carol Renshaw, Ruth Redden, Norma Haggard, Judy Gardner, Judy Lear, Louise Boyd, Judy Curtis, Connie Powell, Eleanor Croft, Anna Hallbeck, Charlene Dudley, Josephine Swinton, Barbara Longfellow. Row five: Judy Harris, Joyce Carter, Nancy Holmes, Jackie Blakely, Anna Lee Rhoades, Pat Smith, Freda Bean, Peggy Hall, Carol Vacher, Banne Baron, Sharon Stevenson, Ann Stevenson. Row six: Bob Gladding, Wally Keene, Robert Brocksmith, Donald Barnes, Ken Hamrick, Ed Harrington, Susan Flemming, Christine Burns, Lizz Byrd, Carol Butler, Joan Kuniholm.

The Bible Club, which meets twice a month and which is sponsored by Mr. Clifton Moore, strives to develop a wider Christian influence in the school.

Members of all denominations belong to the club and make it a vital part of their school life.

The programs vary from hymn sings and movies to outside speakers and from Bible quizzes to panel discussions. Bible studies are also an important part of the club's program as are visits from other Bible clubs in the city.

ARTISTS INTEGRATE BEAUTY AND SKILL

The Make-Up and Art clubs provide an outlet for Westernites with artistic talents. The Make-Up Club is under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Wade. Its members spend much time learning the best techniques of applying make-up. They then use what they have learned by making up the players in all Drama Club productions.

The Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Leon Berkowitz, gives students an opportunity to discuss the subject of art at length and to do art work of their own. Many pupils who are unable to fit art into their school schedules avail themselves of membership in this club.

BEHIND THE SCENES AND BEFORE THE CURTAIN

The music you hear drifting from the third floor is from the choral section rehearsing for their next performance.

Western's Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Harmon Nicodemus, adds much to the school life by singing at religious programs, special assemblies, and graduations.

One of the hardest working, yet least known groups in Western, is the stage crew. Many members of the crew stay four to five days a week working after school, under the direction of Miss Clare Driscoll and Mr. Frederic Middleton. Without this fine organization Western's assemblies would not be the successes that they are.

"Blue spot on stage right," phones Thomas Watt to the balcony while Harry Simpson and Kitt Gillilland stand by.

CLUBS ENCOURAGE ACCURACY

Boys vie for chess championship.

Although the Chess Club is not a large club, it offers much enjoyment. The only requirement for membership is that one be interested in playing chess; however, the members will gladly teach those who do not already know how to play.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Russell Coover, the club members enjoy playing tournaments with fellow members and competing with teams from other schools.

The newly formed science club of Western High School is under the direction of Mrs. Madeline Curtis. The object of the club is to stimulate interest in science and to offer an opportunity for the individual students to work on projects of their own choosing.

The club keeps before its members the opportunities for participation in various science contests. It also makes contact between the pupils in school interested in biology and those interested in chemical engineering, electronics, and various other scientific fields.

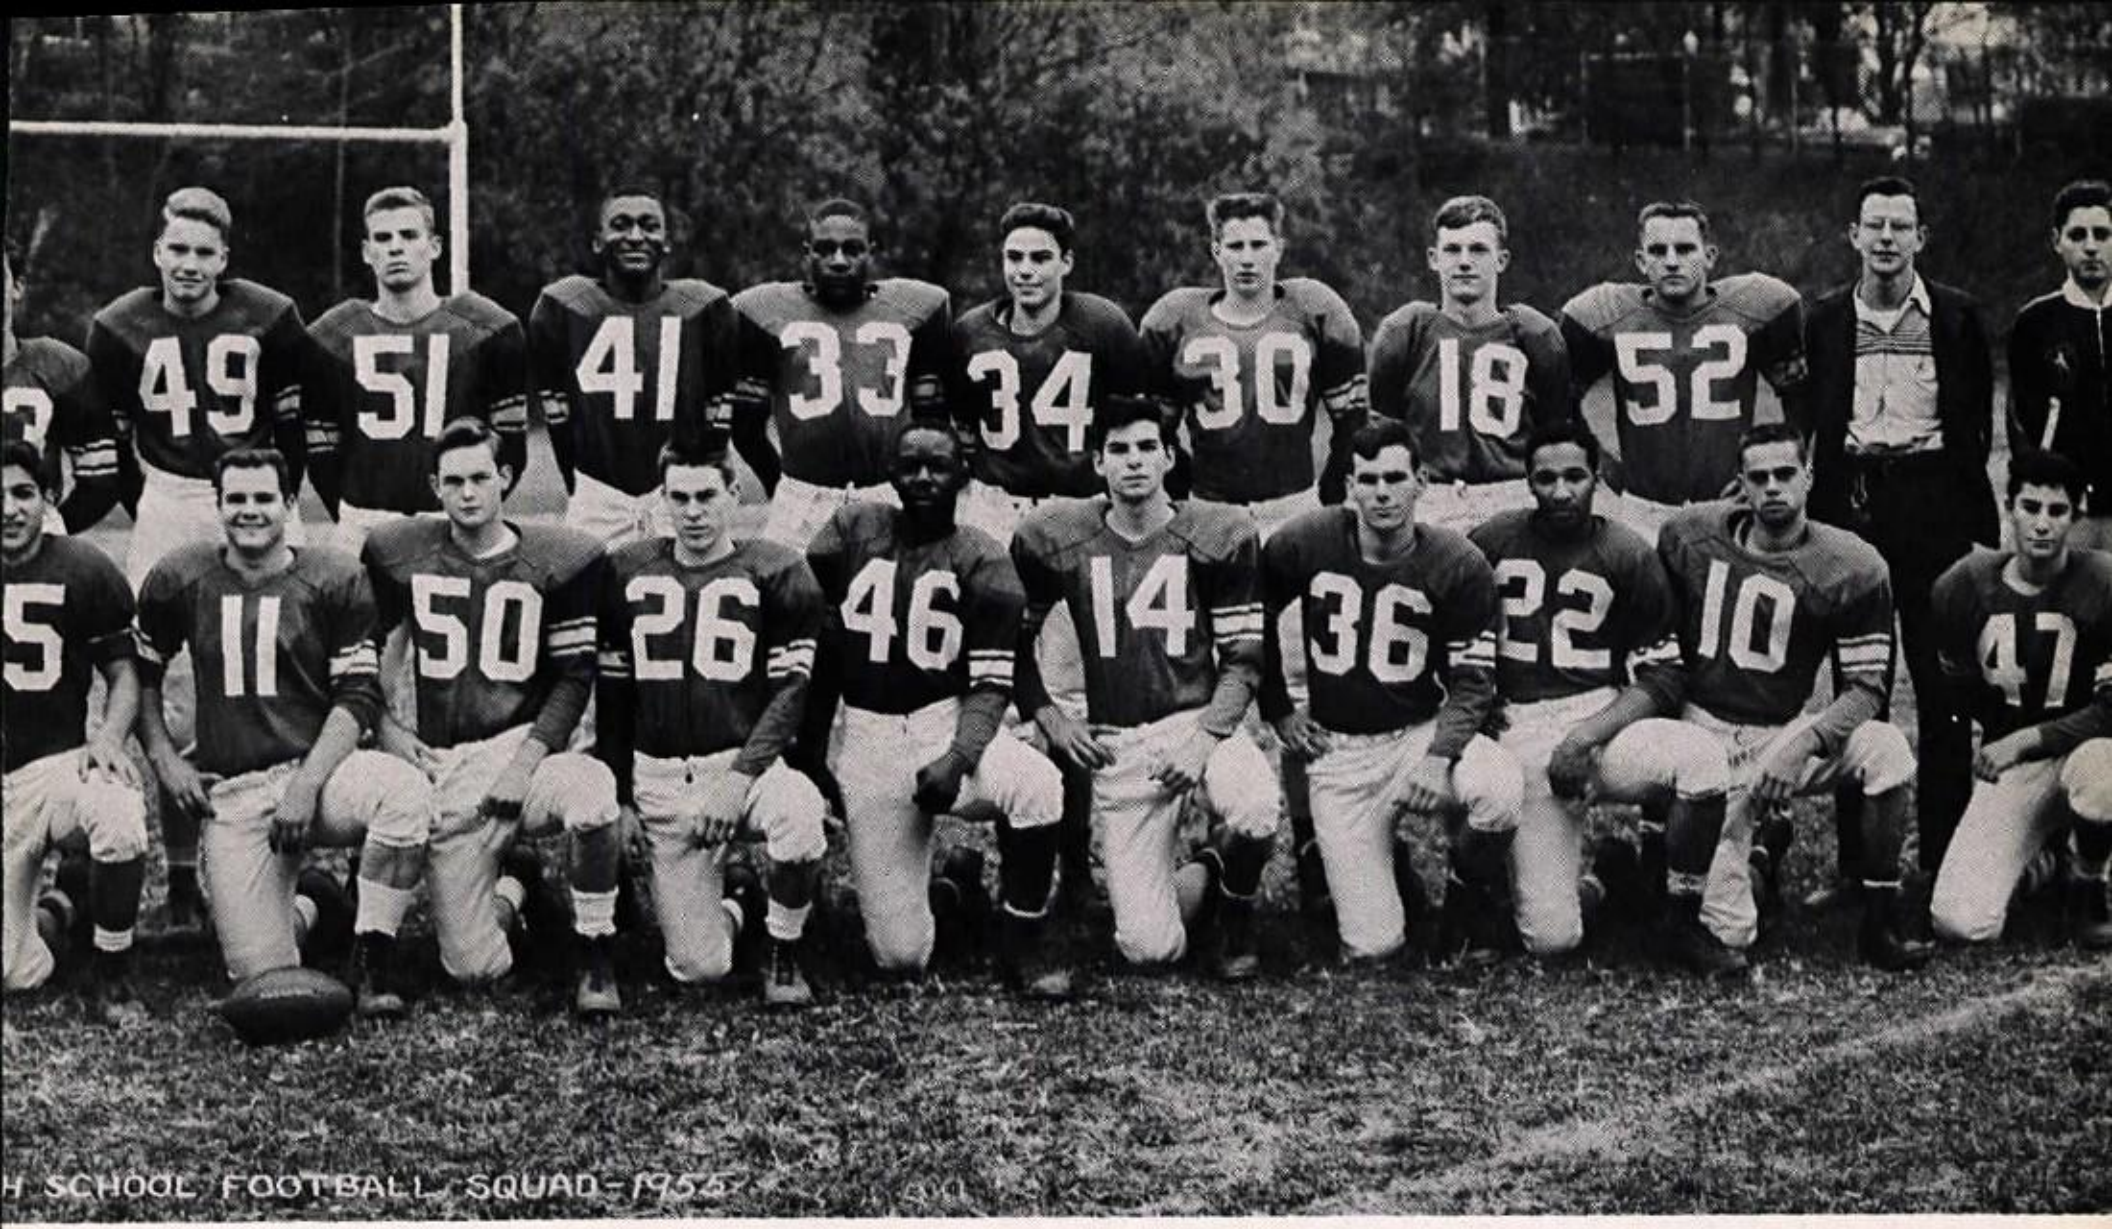
Coach Fred Mulvey talks to his players at halftime during the St. Albans game, which the Red Raiders lost 20-0.

Team captain Bobby Lomax racks up yardage against Dunbar after taking the hand-off from quarterback Ray Lombardi (12).



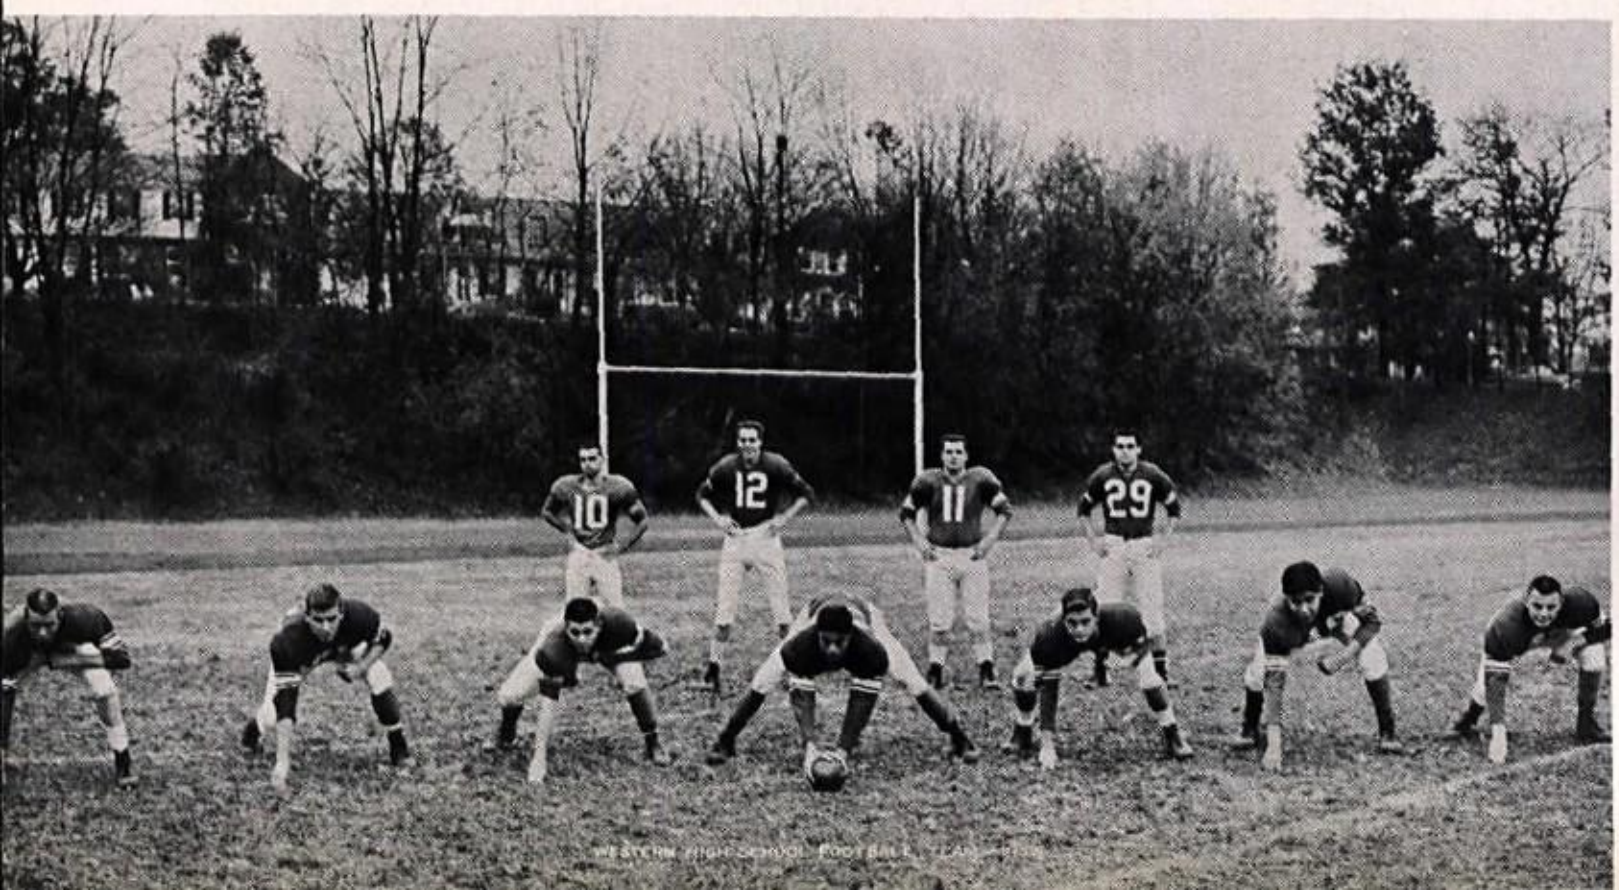
Standing: Mr. Mulvey, W. Virnelson, R. Lombardi, J. Papanicolas, P. Fuchs, K. Bent, D. Weston, V. Best, J. Healy, H. Morrow, P. Dodge, K. Gillilland, B. King, R. Neal, L. Hoelman, J. Bohlayer, G. Ditmore, R. Woolridge, J. LeNard, G. Chester.

GRIDMEN VIE FOR VICTORIES

Although the Raiders didn't establish a record comparable to Western's past squads, the spirit and the hustle shown by the team this year were in no way inferior to other squads.

With such standouts as Dave Fouquet, Joe Trilling, and Louie Hoelman returning next year, plus a fine J. V. squad and the possible return of Ed O'Meara, the outlook for Western fans looks bright.

Mr. Mulvey's fine coaching was again shown in the selection of several Western players to the All-High team. Bobby Lomax, Dave Weston, John Healy, Sonny Best, and Ray Lombardi all received recognition for their fine play.



Line: J. Healy, B. King, V. Best, L. Hoelman, R. Twitchell, D. Weston, H. Morrow. Backfield: D. Smith R. Lombardi, B. Lomax, E. LeBorne.

FOOTBALL

The Raiders' over-all record this year was 3-4-1, with a 2-3-1 record in the Interhigh League, which was good enough for fourth place in the Western Division.

Friends	6	Western	22
Bell	0	Western	49
St. Albans	20	Western	0
Dunbar	6	Western	27
Cardozo	25	Western	6
Wilson	18	Western	6
Roosevelt	13	Western	0
Coolidge	0	Western	0

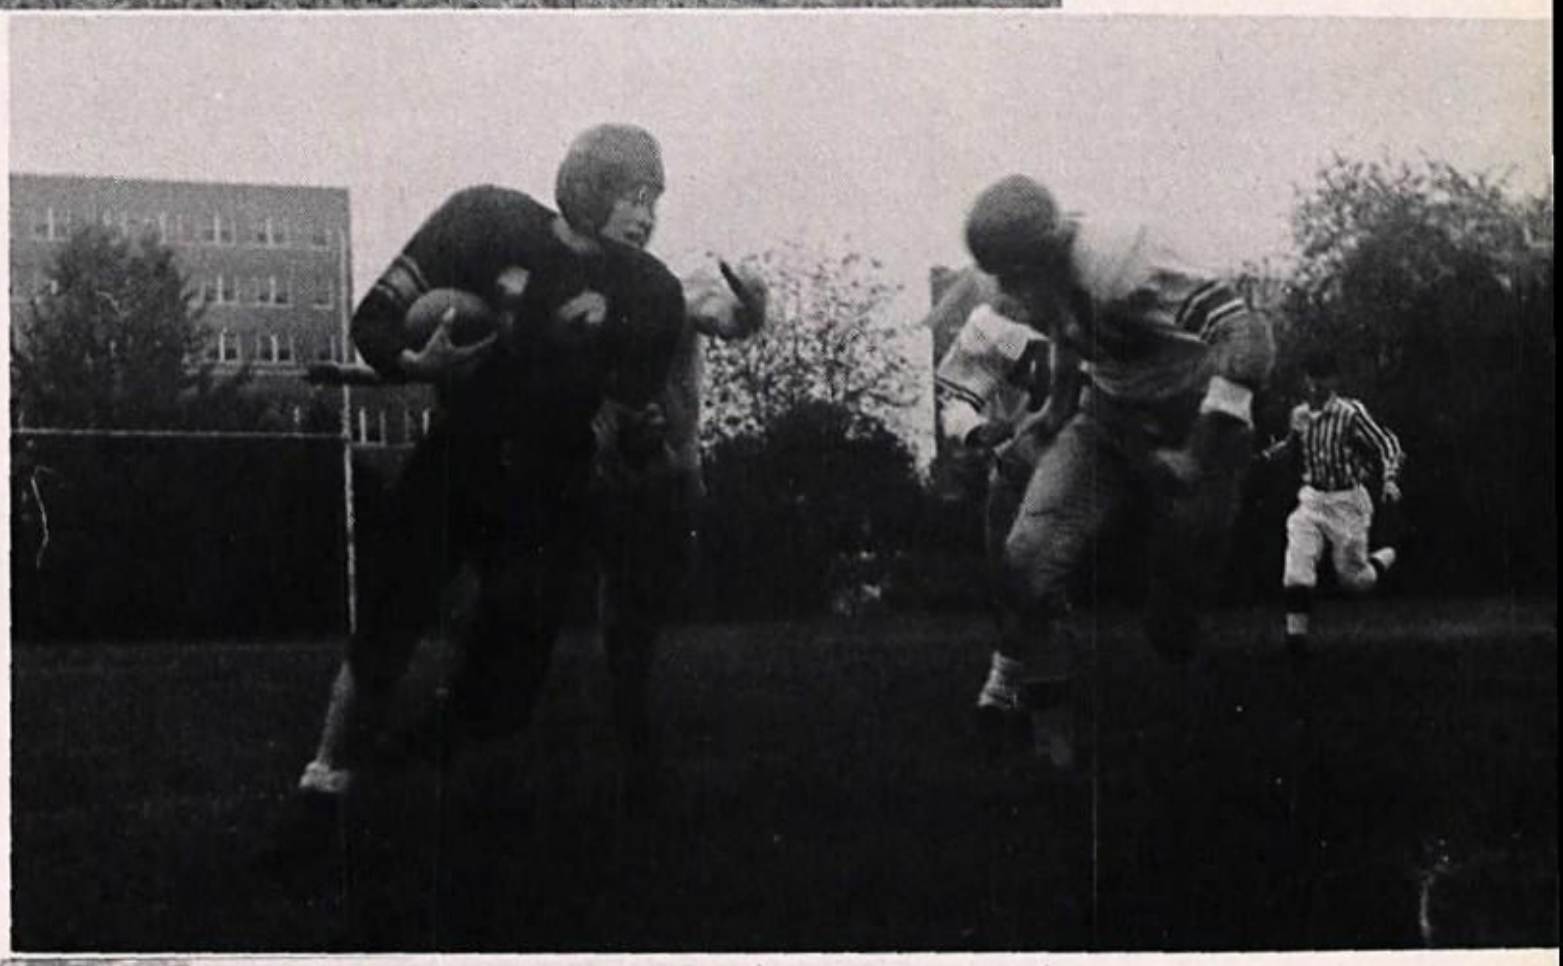
Western guard Dick Twitchell (50) throws a block on an unidentified Wilson player. On the same play, halfback Joe Trilling picked up over five yards.

Raider halfback Eddie LeBorne prepares to take a pass against two Wilson pass defenders.

Quarterback Ray Lombardi gains yardage after shaking off a Wilson end. Halfback Joe Trilling (13) trails behind, ready to take the pitchout, if necessary.

Halfback Dave Harris of Cardozo carries against Western. Coming over to make the tackle are John Healy (44) and Hugh Morrow (42).

Western end John Healy (40) gets set to tackle a Bell ball carrier. Coming in behind are Dave Weston and Hugh Morrow.



Western on defense against St. Albans. Bill King and Sonny Best make the tackle, while Dick Twitchell (50), Hugh Morrow (42), and Tommy Keys (26) come in to help.

Row one: W. Blackman, R. Cairns, H. Morrow, B. Lomax, R. Lombardi, F. Neal, D. Horn. Row two: R. Brocksmith, F. Tilton, P. Schafer, R. Wooldridge, Mr. Lehr.

RAIDERS IN ACTION

In compiling an over-all record of 4-7, the Raiders showed a marked improvement over last year's squad, and promised to improve even more by next year. With first-string players Donald Horn and Frank Neal both returning, the Raiders should have a good year.

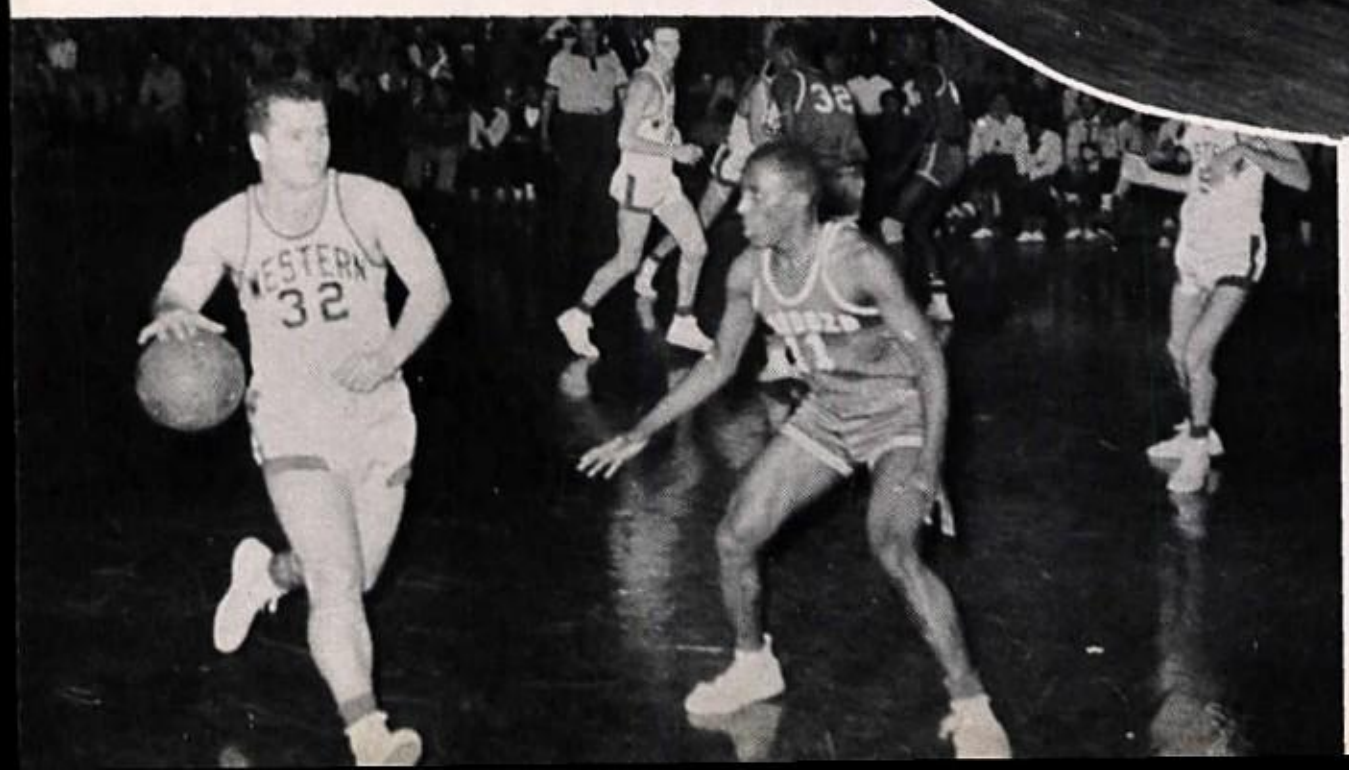
Four of this year's games were so close that a lucky break could have easily won the game for the Raiders. In the Roosevelt and Wilson games, the Red had a nine point lead at one time, only to falter and lose at the final buzzer.

Two Western players, Bob Lomax and Ray Lombardi, were honored for their fine play by selection to most of the All-High teams and were selected to play in the annual All High - All Prep game.

Row one: C. Preston, P. Schriver, L. Hoelman, G. Moore, T. Chaconas. Row two: Mr. Moore, V. Lee, D. Martineau, S. Hollander, R. Faggins.

Raider forward Ray Lombardi drives past three Dunbar players for a lay-up. Frank Neal (22) gets ready for the rebound, if necessary. Dunbar won, 98-54.

Hugh Morrow scores against Eastern on a jump-shot. In the background are Ray Lombardi (5) and Frank Neal (22). The Raiders lost this game in the last few seconds, 67-65.



Captain Bobby Lomax dribbles past a Cardozo player as Ray Lombardi (5) and Bob Cairns (12) watch in the background. Lomax scored on this play, but Western lost the game 80-62.

CLUBS SPARK TEAMWORK

"Hanging arrow," calls one girl. "I made a bull's-eye!" cries another, as archery season gets under way.

During the fall, the fundamental skills of archery are taught in the senior girls' gym classes and a club is formed for after-school practice and improvement.

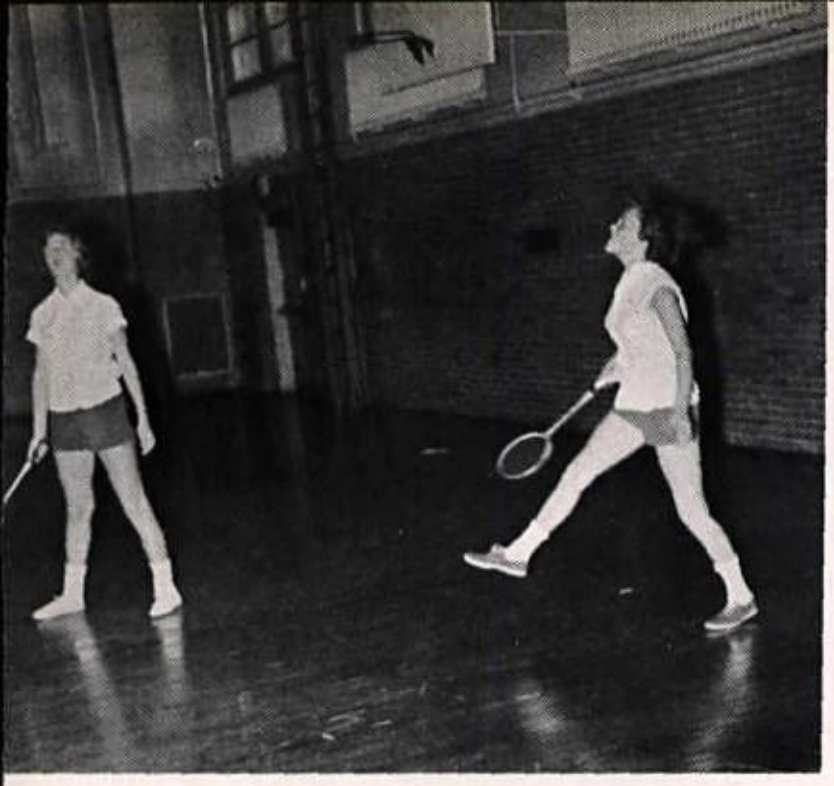
The club is made up of novice and experienced archers and is sponsored by Mrs. Bernice Wade.

The girls learn the correct shooting stances and the way to judge distances. They also learn to develop accuracy and consistency in shooting.

Another important aspect of the club is the training the girls receive in the care of the equipment. They learn how to remove arrows from the target without tearing the material, how to unstring the bows, and how to hold the arrow without crushing the feathers.

Top scorer in the archery season, Nadya Kayaloff, happily removes her arrows from the bull's-eye as Pat Harrison looks on.

"Good form makes for good marksmanship," Miss Whitesell instructs Judy Alafoginis.



"Watch the birdie," yells Terry Magnuson to her partner, June Langford.

Ausma Dzenitis and Dotty Quinn battle for the badminton championship against June Langford and Terry Magnuson.

AND FAIR PLAY

One of the girls' most popular sports is badminton. The "ladder-system" is used, whereby games are played once a week for eight weeks and losing couples are eliminated. In the ninth week the playoffs are held.

The winning combination for this fall's playoffs was Ausma Dzenitis and Dorothy Quinn, with Terry Magnuson and June Langford as runners-up.

The girls hope to win as many games as possible since they receive more points toward their felt "W" and membership in the Girls' "W" Club.

Miss Dena Whitesell is the club's sponsor.

Swish. "Another basket for the red team," cries a triumphant forward.

Excitement ran high every Monday afternoon during the winter season when the basketball tournament was held. The ladder-system was used whereby the seven participating teams played against one another until the final game when the top two contenders battled it out.

This year the top two teams were those captained by Terry Magnuson and Connie Powell. Connie's team won in the final game and became the tournament champions.

Basketball was coached by Miss Dena Whitesell and Mrs. Bernice Wade, who also taught refereeing and scorekeeping skills to interested girls.

SPIRIT RUNS HIGH AT GAMES

"Come on, Western, let's fight!" yell the spirited Western "cuties" at every game. The cheerleaders are the core of Western's spirit; they rouse interest for all athletic events by cheering at pep assemblies, in the cafeteria, and at all the games. They also make pompons to sell and they serve at the sports dinners.

It is quite an honor to be chosen as one of the eight cheerleaders. In November all the junior girls who want to learn and practice the cheers come to the gym to be instructed by the senior cheerleaders. During December two groups of girls are eliminated. The remaining girls strive for perfection; then, in January, all but eight girls are eliminated. These girls make up the squad of the next year's cheerleaders. Next year at every game you will see Mary Lynne Foore, Margaret Humphries, Dorothy Bones, Dorothy Quinn, Sharon Purkhiser, Beth Thring, Eleanor Johnson, and Judy McLaughlin.

We can tell by the happy expressions on the faces of cheerleaders Anne Austin, Judy DeCroes, and Liz Frazier that Western has won again.

"Come on, fellas, let's really cheer," encourage little Lisa Bornstein and Gene Cohen.

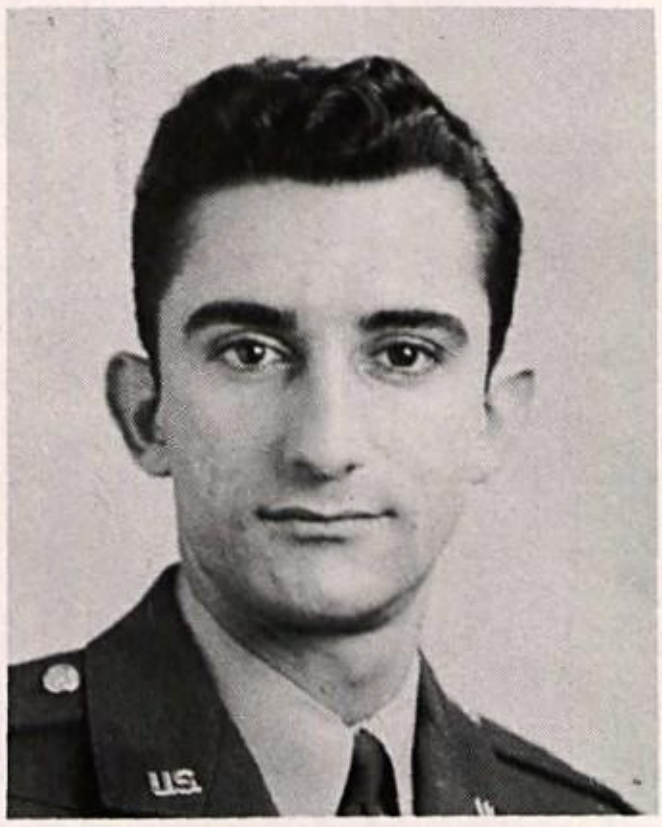
FOURTH REGIMENTAL STAFF

Steven Dice
Lt. Col., Fourth Regiment



Lieutenant Charles Butera
Military Instructor

This year I have had the honor and privilege of commanding the Fourth Regiment of Washington High School Cadets.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people who have helped me during the year: Lieutenant Charles Butera, "the inspiration" of the "Fighting Fourth," for his able assistance and leadership and Oscar Browne, my executive officer, for his capable and efficient service.

From my three years as a cadet I have received invaluable training, companionship, and enjoyment that I could not have acquired anywhere else.

Judging from our appearance at present, when we form on the competitive field, we will represent Western as ably as we have in the past.

I have depended upon the cooperation and help of you, the men in the ranks, and I thank you for your support during the year.

I hope that you will remember that it is a privilege to serve in the Western Cadet Corps.

Three times within the last fifty years the bugles of war have blown, and our country's finest have defended her honor. It is not too far a cry from the untrained teen-age cadet, marching on Western's football field, to the battle seasoned young man, fighting for his country on the steep cliffs of a Korean hill.

Here at Western the cadet corps is an essential part of the high school curriculum, so important, in fact, that Congress has found it necessary to make it a compulsory course for the high school boy. Cadet training is not just another subject to be taken for an additional credit; it is a preparatory course for the life one might need to lead in the future.

It takes a good man to give orders, but it takes a better man to follow them. This is one of the important teachings of cadet training. One man marching on to the competitive field, officer or private, could not win the competition for Western, nor could ten; but one company could, one company working as a team with Western's unflinching spirit held high as its banner.

We are good, yes; but we can always be better. The Western High School Cadet Corps has a glorious heritage, but this is not enough. The Cadet Corps of 1956 must make its own heritage. If we keep all of these things in mind, we will once more walk away from the competitive field with the ribbons of victory unfurled under Western's colors.

LOVE

. . . THE GREATEST GIFT

HE WHO UNDERSTANDS LOVE

UNDERSTANDS GOD

FOR GOD IS LOVE

"Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy.

But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

JESUS CHRIST, MATT. 5:43,44

"If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also."

I JOHN 4:20,21

PERFECT LOVE CASTETH OUT FEAR

O WESTERN HIGH

Words by:
Nancy Head '56
Margaret Longfellow '56

Music by:
Sam Jack Kaufman

O Western High, we pledge to thee

Our honor and our loyalty.

Thy red and white we proudly bear

And guard its standards with great care.

Thy great tradition has lived long,

With honor high and strong.

Your teams, cadets, and teachers fine

Have made you first throughout all time.

Your shaded walks and columns tall

Are mem'ries dear to one and all.

As time moves on and we must go,

O Western High, we'll miss you so!
